This is a scientifically made article of food. It is rich, wholesome, nourishing and so easily digested that the delicate stomachs of infants and invalids will retain it when they refuse to retain anything else.

It is as far ahead of old-fashioned so-called malted milks as creamery butter is ahead of oleomargarine. As a delicious beverage it is superior to tea, coffee or cocoa, and you never tire of it.

Happiness in Sleep.

I saw once how like sleep was to life in the deep waters. A man who to my waking eyes looked cold and starved and ragged sat upon one of the benches on the embankment. He was sleeping, and I knew from his face that then at least he did not count himself miserable. But presently a policeman came and shook the sleeper into waking life. Then all the violence of the world seemed to be let loose upon this wreck of a man. He shook and blinked his eyes and breathed with heavy spasms. It was just as when a fish is caught out of the depth of the sea and suddenly cast into a basket. I have seen mackerel shake and gasp like this poor man suddenly caught up out of the native depths of sleep. Or if you think that a fish thus dying is only an amusing and not a painful sight then think of what it might be if some giant of fable could catch us up out of our native air into the space between the stars. Would we not willingly sink back again into the depth of air? So it is when the world lets us glide down into sleep.—London Outlook

His Name in the Directory.

"One funny thing I have learned about human nature," said the drug store cashier, "is the habit many people have of marking their own names in the city directory. They do that because the directory is the only place where their names ever get into print, and it has such a fascinating effect on them that they can't resist calling attention to it. A funny old man who likes to talk tells me that he has made special trips to different parts of the city just to mark his name in the directories of the neighborhood. He puts a little cross in red ink before it. I asked him what good it did. He said none possibly, although he is a teacher of languages and may get a few calls on account of that queer advertisement. But his is an exceptional case. Not many persons spend time and money hunting city directories, but every time they happen to see a new one they can't help looking up their names and putting some kind of a mark around them."—New York Sun

Mansfield's Coaching.

"Richard Mansfield," said an actress who played in his company, "was a great teacher, but terribly relentless. I shall never forget a time when I was playing with him in 'The First Violin.' I could not, strive frantically as I would, do the thing he wanted. He was gentle at first, and then, persisting in my failure, he began to lash and whip and sting me with his words until I thought I should have to run away. In agony of impotent desperation I cried out: 'I cannot! Oh, I cannot!' 'Mr. Mansfield threw up his hands in a gesture of relief, and a smile played about his lips. 'Why,' he said sweetly, 'you're doing the very thing right now. No one on earth could do it better. And then I knew what he meant, and those lines were a triumph to me all that season.'—Detroit Free Press.

Walking.

The Almighty has not freighted the foot with a single superfluous part. Every inch of every foot is meant for use. When a man walks in the right way, speaking literally, the back of the heel strikes the ground first. Then the rest of the heel comes down, after which the outer edge of the foot takes the bulk of the burden until the forward movement shifts the weight to the ball of the foot and finally to the toes. The ideal step is a slightly rocking motion. At no time should the entire foot be pressed against the ground. Heel to toe is the movement. Try it and see how much farther and more easily you can walk. It's the Indian's way, and what poor Lo doesn't know about footwork can go into the discard.—New York Press.

A Lesson With His Autograph.

An admirer once wrote to Lowell describing his autograph collection and concluding with the remark, "I would be much obliged for your autograph." The reply came, bearing with it a lesson on the correct use of the words "would" and "should," which deeply impressed itself on the mind of the recipient. The response read: "Pray, do not say hereafter, 'I would be obliged if you would be obliged to oblige and have done with it.' Say, 'I should be obliged,' and oblige yours truly. JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL.

A Remodeled Text.

"Perhaps you could preach us a sermon about the condition of things in our town," says the resident pastor to the visiting one. "Saloons, gambling houses and the like run wide open all the time, and the officers pay no attention to them." "Yes," agrees the visitor, "I might take as my text, 'There's no arrest for the wicked.'—Judge.

Grace Before Meat.

The Zulu admires a woman according to her weight. The Zulu can respect a 200 pound woman, but it is only a 300 or 400 pound one that he can really love. We enlightened persons, on the other hand, have been taught to like grace before meat.—Exchange.

A Surgeon's Story

He Saw the First Part of a Drama and Was an Actor in the Second Part.

By BEVERLY WORTHINGTON.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

I am a surgeon, and my home is in Florence, Italy. When a young man studied at a college of physicians and surgeons in my native country, America, but, possessing a taste for art, concluded to change my profession. Coming here to Florence, I studied art for awhile, but soon saw that I did not possess the talent necessary to make an artist. Having fallen in love with this delightful city, I remained, hanging out my shingle as a surgeon. One night I attended a ball at the Pitti palace. It was my first appearance among the aristocracy of Florence, and I was much interested in watching the people there, few of whom I had ever seen. A young girl with a gentleman attendant on each side of her walked by me. The appearance of the three told a story. The man on her left was young, handsome, in every way attractive. He on her right was past middle age and disagreeable looking as the other was engaging. As they passed me he gave the younger man a malignant look. The girl appeared to be much troubled. It was plain that her heart was with the man on her left, that she was constrained to choose the man on her right and that the two men hated each other on her account.

"Everywhere," I remarked to myself, "the stream of life is troubled. To be rich, to be prominent, does not render one immune from that which is disagreeable. Happy love has evident ly come to this young girl, to be interfered with by one who, judging from her expression, has some claim upon her. How I should like to know the story."

As I thought the last words I little dreamed that within a few hours a climax would come in the drama being enacted by those three persons and that I would come upon the stage for a minor part. When I left the palace I went directly to my rooms and to bed. An hour later I was awakened from a sound sleep by a violent knocking—I arose, slipped on a gown and opened the door. Two gentlemen in evening dress stepped into the room.

"You are the American surgeon, I believe?" said one.

"At your service," I replied.

"You are wanted to attend a man dangerously wounded," said the other.

"You are chosen partly on account of your standing in your profession, but principally because you are not one of our circle. We do not like our affairs to be known. I must ask you to permit me to blindfold you."

I objected to this, but one of the men put his hand to his hip pocket and drew forth a small pistol with mother-of-pearl mountings, while the other produced a stiletto. I picked up my bag of instruments and suffered them to tie a handkerchief about my eyes. They led me out to the sidewalk, told me to raise my foot, and I stepped into a carriage.

"Drive a roundabout way," I heard one of the gentlemen say.

"No," interposed the other. "He may bleed to death. We must go as quickly as possible."

There was no need to make turns for I had no idea where they were taking me. In what I supposed to be ten minutes the carriage stopped. I was helped out and soon by the increased warmth of the air felt myself to be in a building. Then I mounted steps, and at last the bandage was taken off my eyes. I was standing beside a bed on which lay a miserable-looking young man I had soon walking on the left of the girl at the Pitti.

I knew too well the danger of showing any sign of recognition.

"Senore Dottori," he said with a feeble voice, "I have been stabbed on the left side—here," uncovering. "It is near the heart."

It was near the heart, but had fortunately just escaped that organ. After an examination I assured the patient that if he kept perfectly quiet till the wound should heal he would recover. But I thought that, considering its close proximity to a vital organ, a surgeon should remain with him until a healing should be established.

"Then," said one of the men who had brought me, "you must remain. We do not care that two surgeons should be introduced here just now."

"But my practice—my patients?"

"All damages to your practice shall be liberally paid for."

I made a virtue of necessity and assented.

Meanwhile I had bandaged the cut and when I had finished turned and looked about me. I was in one of those old palaces, as they are called in Florence, belonging to some illustrious family. The furniture, at least some of it, must have been several hundred years old. The bed on which the wounded man lay was canopied. On the walls were paintings, some of which I recognized as masterpieces of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. There was no one in the room except the two men who brought me and the patient. I directed that a large lounge of antique pattern should be made comfortable for me to sleep in, as it would be best for me to be very near the patient. Then the men who had at the man who had been sent to him that he might sign his death warrant, then, lowering his eyes to a sheet of paper before him, began to question him and take down his answers. For his own life he dare not favor his benefactor.

"Your name?" he asked.

"Alphonse Du Faur."

"Occupation?"

"Surgeon."

"I believe it is you who have kept the tyrant Louis Capet and his family from the grave where they should have laid long ago."

"I was the king's physician."

Those standing about scowled and expected that the next words would be "Take him to the guillotine!"

"And do you think," continued the judge, "that you who have kept alive this oppressor of the people should die the same death as other aristocrats?"

The doctor did not answer the question.

"Take him to the temporary prison for awhile, but soon saw that I did not possess the talent necessary to make an artist. # SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE

Sonoma, June 11, 1910.

H. H. GRANICE, Editor.

The literary bureau of the so-called Lincoln-Roosevelt League is sending out Judge Peter J. Shield's opinion of Hiram Johnson, candidate for Governor of the insurgent and rebellious Republicans. It is now in order for the Judge to give his opinion of the political pirates behind Johnson—those sore-headed Republicans who would rule or ruin the party for the sake of feeding at the public crib.

A FAVORITE SON OF THE SOUTHLAND.

Philip A. Stanton of Los Angeles County Was in Town for a Few Hours Last Tuesday.

Hon. Phillip A. Stanton, whose photograph we present below, Speaker of the Assembly and candidate for the Republican nomination of Governor, honored Sonoma with a short visit late Tuesday afternoon. The wide expanse of territory which he must cover in making his campaign before August 16th made his stay here necessarily brief. However, he met many of the leading Republicans of the town before taking his departure, and although many of these were out and out Charley Curry advocates, we must confess that Mr. Stanton made a very favorable impression on those of our people whom his brief stay here permitted him to meet.

Mr. Stanton is a favorite son of the Southland and is today one of the strongest men south of Tehachapi that is aspiring for gubernatorial honors, and should he secure the Republican nomination there can be no doubt of his election. In the north he is not so well-known as Curry and Anderson. Even Hiram Johnson, upon whom so much useless hot air of the bovine quality is being expended, is better known in these parts and may poll more votes than Mr. Stanton in Northern California in the four-cornered Republican contest for the gubernatorial nomination. While we all know the nominee of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League has no earthly show of being nominated, much less elected, should the advocates of Messrs. Curry, Stanton and Anderson get together and pool their issues on either one of the three, all of whom are good square Republicans, and with their friends it appears to be only a question of the locality they hail from and their party strength. With these differences settled before the primary election our next Governor will be a Republican. If they are not settled, he may be a Democrat, and—there you are. Mr. Stanton is the first of the four or five Republican aspirants for gubernatorial honors to pay Sonoma a visit. He is a man of fine personality, has made a splendid record as Speaker of the Assembly, and should he receive the nomination would rally to his support most of the factions that now exist in the Republican party, but the way things look now, Mr. Stanton's chances for winning out in the forthcoming primaries are problematical. There are too many good Republicans pitted against each other for the nomination and if it goes to Hiram Johnson, the insurgent, nobody will be to blame except Messrs. Curry, Stanton and Anderson and their political backers.

Dissolution of Partnership

A business change of importance will go into effect in Petaluma wherein the well-known dry-goods firm of Phillips & Tough will be dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Phillips will continue in the business, but Mr. Tough will retire, his plans for the present being incomplete. Mr. Phillips will occupy the Main street part of the building and conduct a first-class men's and juvenile's furnishing store. He will rent the store now occupied as a ladies' suit and cloak department. The dry goods and stock of the firm will be closed out. The sale will begin on Saturday.

Mr. Phillips intends to have one of the most up-to-date stores north of San Francisco. He will remodel and improve the store and will carry up-to-date goods. Miss Elizabeth Shaver will remain with Mr. Phillips, which will be good news to the many friends of Miss Shaver, who is so popular with the many patrons of the store.

The change in the firm will create much interest in business circles. Mr. Tough, who was formerly with the old firm of Frazier & Co., resigned his position with the firm to go into business with Mr. Phillips, having purchased the interest of D. Strauss. The firm had one of the finest stores north of San Francisco.

Mr. Phillips will still continue to conduct the tailoring department in connection with the new enterprise.—Petaluma Courier.

Sonoma Grammar School.

The scholars of the seventh and eighth grades of the Sonoma Grammar School have prepared their final examination papers this week for the County Board of Education. The school closed yesterday for the mid-summer vacation. The principal, Prof. Jesse Prestwood, has brought it up to a high state of efficiency since taking charge of the school two years ago.

Woman's Club Notes.

At the business meeting last Friday plans were made for putting one dozen new benches in the Plaza. The president announced that arrangements had been made with the City Trustees for having the Plaza cleaned and also for having a general "clean up day" for the whole town on Wednesday, June 15th.

Three new members were admitted.

Huichica School Bonds to be Advertised for Sale.

At a meeting of the Board of Supervisors Thursday the matter of advertising the $7000 school bond issue of the Huichica school district for sale came up for consideration. The bonds were recently voted by the progressive people of that district to build a new school house, which was badly needed.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

Dr. Pierce's

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

UNION HIGH SCHOOL

Commencement Week a Strenuous One—School Closes for Well Earned Rest for Both Faculty and Students

Commencement week of the Sonoma Valley Union High School which was a strenuous one for both faculty and students, closed last Tuesday night with a reception tendered to the graduating class.

The playlet, "James Wobberts, Freshman," staged by the students in Union Hall, last Saturday evening, brought out a large and appreciative audience, which was loud in its praise of the histrionic efforts of the students, who did themselves proud.

On Sunday evening the faculty and students attended the Congregational Church where the baccalaureate sermon to the class of 1910 was delivered by Rev. H. J. Luken of Berkeley.

This was followed by the graduating exercises which were held in Union Hall on Monday evening before a house that was crowded to the doors. R. A. Poppe, the president of the High School Board, presented the diplomas to the graduates, Edna Cooper, Beatrice Columbini, Arvilla Revie, Otto Dresel and Donald Campbell. The salutatory by Otto Gottlieb Dresel and the valedictory by Edna Dunn Cooper were masterly efforts and showed much study and thought on their subject by the young students, and both came in for their need of praise. The graduates were the recipients of many beautiful floral offerings and other gifts.

Tuesday evening a reception was tendered the graduates in the High School, which was strictly an institution affair. The assembly room was handsomely decorated and dancing and refreshments were the features.

Thus came to a close one of the most successful terms of our High School recorded for many years.

Admission Day Badge

An appropriate and handsome little badge has been adopted by the ninth of September celebration committee of San Francisco to be worn to commemorate Bear Flag Day, Tuesday, June 14th. Next Tuesday will be the sixtieth anniversary of the raising of the Bear Flag in this city on that memorable day of June 14th, 1846. The anniversary will be generally observed all over the state, and the tiny white silk Bear Flags will be disposed of by thousands as souvenirs of that event.

Farewell Party

A farewell party was tendered Mr. Will Curtis at the Darling home south of town on Friday evening of last week by a number of his friends. Music, games and refreshments were the features of the evening's entertainment. Mr. Curtis left Tuesday morning for the east where he will reside in the future.

Improvements on Hyde Ranch.

Cattle Thieves

Messrs. Sartori & La Franchi, the well-known dairymen of this valley, who have the Buena Vista Rancho under lease, had three fine milch cows stolen last Sunday night by cattle thieves, who have been preying on the ranch for a few years. During that period thirty head of stock have been run off under cover of darkness by the thieves, who have so far escaped detection. Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan has been notified of this latest raid and is now following up a clew that may lead to the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties.

Arthur Strayer of Santa Rosa Meets With Accident Here

Arthur Strayer, a Santa Rosa drummer, while handling a cash register at the depot last Tuesday, met with a painful accident. The register, which was a large one, slipped out of his hands and striking his left leg cut a long and deep gash on the outer part of the leg. Dr. Thomson attended to Strayer's hurt, which required six stitches to close the wound.

Buffalo Club vs. Sonoma

Next Sunday, June 12th, the Buffalo Club will come to Sonoma to try conclusions with the local team at the race track grounds. The game will begin at 2 p. m. sharp. An admission fee of 25c and 10c will be charged to defray expenses. Come and help the team along.

Fourth of July Parade

We wish to call the attention of our citizens to the fact that we are to have a parade on the Fourth, and hope that everybody will take an active interest in it, and help to make it the best ever held here. Generous cash prizes will be offered, a list of which will be published later. Don't forget the Goddess of Liberty contest. See that your favorite wins.

Will Claim His Bride Wednesday

Son of Railway Employee Bitten by Vicious Dog

Tommy, the young son of Nick Ahern, formerly of this city, but who is now the section foreman of the Southern Pacific Company, Santa Rosa, was badly bitten by a vicious dog in that place Wednesday. The youngster was running to a fire in another part of the city from that in which he lived, when he was suddenly pounced upon by the dog, which seized him by the calf of the leg and sinking his fangs deep in the flesh, severed an artery, from which the lad nearly bled to death before a physician could be summoned.

Richardson, the Seducer, is Convicted.

An intelligent jury, sitting in Judge Seawell's department of the Superior Court, presided over the past week by Judge J. Q. White during the absence of Judge Seawell at Lake Tahoe, found F. C. Richardson guilty as charged in the indictment.

The defendant, who conducted a business college in Santa Rosa for a number of years, had among his students a large number of girl students, several of whom he ruined. Still, upon the occasion of his first trial two weeks ago a stumped jury disagreed, standing six for conviction and six for acquittal.

The second jury which brought in its verdict of guilty Thursday was composed of Victor Piezzi, its foreman, and Messrs. William J. McCracken, R. H. Dixon, G. Millerick, J. H. Anderson, W. E. Hiatt, J. H. Copps, Garrett Hyatt, J. R. Shepherd, J. C. Voss, A. F. Misener and C. B. Brown.

The twelve men on the first ballot voted for conviction, which will meet with general approbation.

District Attorney Lea, who prosecuted the case, deserves much praise in bringing the scoundrel to justice, than whom no more dangerous enemy to society exists.

Sonoma Brewing Company

The Sonoma Brewing Company has been running its machinery night and day the past week and is turning out large quantities of steam and lager beer and ice. The lager beer will not be put upon the market until it is thoroughly aged.

The plant is one of the finest in the State and was installed with a view to engaging in the cold storage and creamery business in time for next season's trade if possible. It represents an investment of over $5,000.

Remonstrance Against Granting Liquor License

The application of F. S. Shirley for a liquor license for Ohm's Springs has met with a remonstrance and the matter will come up before the Board of Supervisors on Wednesday, July 13th, at 11 o'clock in the morning for final consideration. The resort was formerly conducted by the late John McNeil, whose license has expired.

Presentation Convent School Closing Exercises.

The closing exercises of the Presentation Convent School will be held in Union Hall next Tuesday evening. The graduates are Miss Beth Trudgen and George Carpenter, both of whom may enter our High School next term.

The pupils will also give a literary and musical entertainment in conjunction with the exercises, the proceeds of which will be applied to aiding the good sisters in maintaining the convent school, which object should appeal to all classes of our citizens.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the Poundmaster to take up, impound and safely keep any of the animals or fowls enumerated in this ordinance found running at large, staked or tied, or being herded or pastured in any public street, avenue, lane, alley, court, plaza, place or public grounds, in said City of Sonoma, contrary to the provisions of this ordinance.

When any animal or fowl is so impounded, the Poundmaster shall immediately notify in writing the owner thereof, if known to him, and shall post three (3) notices, one at the City Hall, one at the Postoffice and the other at some public place in said City of Sonoma. Said notices shall contain a sufficient description of said animals or fowls, and shall set forth that unless reclaimed, they will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder, at a time and place to be specified in said notice, which shall not be less than five (5) nor more than ten (10) days from the posting thereof, and if said animals or fowls are not reclaimed before the expiration of the time specified in the notice, the Poundmaster shall proceed to sell the same at the time and place and in the manner specified in said notice. In case there be no bidders for such animals or fowls, then said Poundmaster shall kill the same, without unnecessary cruelty, and dispose of the carcasses thereof in such manner as the Health Officer may direct.

Section 3. The owner of any animal or fowl impounded shall have the right to reclaim the same at any time prior to the sale thereof upon payment to the Poundmaster of the costs and charges hereinafter provided under this Ordinance for impounding and keeping said animals or fowls or if sold to receive the proceeds of the sale thereof, less the costs and charges aforesaid, within thirty (30) days after such sale, upon satisfactory proof of his or her ownership of the property sold, duly made before a Justice of the Peace of the Township of Sonoma.

Section 4. The Poundmaster shall cause all animals or fowls impounded by him to be provided with sufficient food and water suitable for such animals or fowls, and upon his neglecting to do so, shall be liable to the owner for all damages arising therefrom.

Section 5. The Poundmaster shall be entitled to receive from the owner of any animal or fowls the following fees for impounding and keeping the same, to-wit:

1. Horses, bulls, oxen and cows, per head, $1.00.
2. Jacks, mules, steers and colts, per head, $1.00.
3. Hogs, sheep, goats and calves, per head, $1.00.
4. Ducks and geese, per head, 25c.

4. Ducks and geese, per head, 10c.
5. Dogs, 10c.

Section 6. The prohibition contained in Section 1 hereof, does not apply to any dog or dogs of the age of six months or upwards, duly licensed and registered in accordance with the provisions of Ordinances of the City of Sonoma, providing for the licensing and registration of dogs in the City of Sonoma, and all such licensed dogs and all dogs under six (6) months of age may run at large in any of the public streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, plaza, places or public grounds of said City of Sonoma.

It is hereby made the duty of the Poundmaster to take up and impound any dog or dogs of the age of six months and upwards, not licensed and registered, found running at large in any public street, avenue, lane, alley, court, plaza, place or public grounds in said City of Sonoma.

Section 7. It shall be the duty of all persons having any dead fowls or animals upon their premises, or who shall be the owner or possessor of any dead fowl or animal which has died within the City of Sonoma, to bury the same at least four (4) feet under the ground (except geese, ducks or other fowl which shall be buried at least two (2) feet under the ground) either upon his own premises or in the City burial place for dead animals, for which he shall be entitled to receive from the owner or possessor of such dead fowl or animal the following fee:

For burying horses, oxen, bulls or cows, each, $3.00.

For burying ducks, geese or other fowl, each, 10c.
For burying dogs, each, 50c.

Section 8. If any person shall fail or neglect for twelve hours after notice in writing from the Poundmaster or any executive officer of the City of Sonoma, to bury any dead fowl or animal, as provided for in this Ordinance, then in such case it shall be the duty of the Poundmaster to proceed forthwith to bury the same, and it shall be lawful for the Poundmaster to charge and receive from the owner or possessor of such dead fowl or animal the fees herein before provided, which fees it shall be the duty of such owner or possessor of any such dead fowl or animal to pay.

Henry Clay's Eloquence.
It was the remark of a distinguished senator that Henry Clay's eloquence was absolutely intangible to definition, that the most labored description could not embrace it and that to be understood it must be seen and felt. He was an orator by nature. His eagle eye burned with patriotic ardor or flashed indignation and defiance upon his foes or was suffused with tears of commiseration or of pity, and it was because he felt that he made others feel. A gentleman after hearing one of his magnificent efforts in the senate thus described him: "Every muscle of the orator's face was at work. His whole body seemed agitated, as if each part was instinct with a separate life, and his small, white hand, with its blue veins apparently distended almost to bursting, moved gracefully, but with all the energy of rapid and vehement gesture. The appearance of the speaker seemed that of a pure intellect wrought up to its mightiest energies and brightly shining through the thin and transparent veil of flesh that invested it."—St. Louis Republic.

Cleanliness in Persia.
The Persian spreads hours in the "hamams" (Turkish baths), which are very handsome buildings decorated with tiles and embellished with numerous exhortations as to the value of cleanliness. The smallest village in Persia has its "hammam," and bathing is almost a religious function. When the hot room and massage are finished the Persian is shaved, and the whole top of his head is likewise shaved, though the hair over the ears is left and allowed to grow down to the neck. This strange custom has a religious meaning, for the two locks on each side of the head are meant for the angel of death to hold when he carries the believer to paradise. All Persians dye their hair with a mixture of henna and vesmeh, and the hair dyeing is the last part of the bath, but tea and smoking are indulged in afterward, and the frequenters of the "hamams" find them very pleasant lounging places.—Chicago Journal.

A Whale's Breathing.
An eminent naturalist says concerning the breathing apparatus of the whale: "The windpipe does not communicate with the mouth. A hole is, as it were, bored right through the back of the head. Engineers would do well to copy the action of the valve of the whale's blowhole. A more perfect piece of structure it is impossible to imagine. Day and night, asleep or awake, the whale works its breathing apparatus in such a manner that not a drop of water ever gets down into the lungs. Again, the whale must of necessity stay a much longer period under water than seals. This alone might possibly drown him, as the lungs cannot have access to fresh air. We find that this difficulty has been anticipated and obviated by a peculiar reservoir in the venous system, which reservoir is situated at the back of the lungs."

Is the Universe Running Down?
It is absolutely certain that the machinery of the solar system is running down. The earth, with its mass of three thousand trillion tons, moving through space a thousand times faster than the express train goes, is being retarded by the friction of the atmosphere and tides to the extent that it loses about an hour in 16,000 years, a very slow process, it would seem, but one that will inevitably bring the earth to a standstill ultimately. And what is true of the earth is true of all the worlds and suns. Sir Isaac Newton maintained that the motions of all bodies in space suffer retardation and that their velocity is steadily becoming less and will finally cease. Solar systems, like everything else, have their time to be born and their time to die.—New York American.

How Scott Bore Adversity.
Once when I was staying with Mr. Ruskin he took delight in showing me his Scott manuscripts. He took down "Woodstock" from the shelf, and, turning the leaves over slowly and lovingly, he said: "I think this is the most precious of them all. Scott was writing this book when the news of his ruin came upon him. He was about here, where I have opened it. Do you see the beautiful handwriting? Now look as I turn over the pages toward the end. Is the writing one jot less beautiful? Are there more erasures than before? That assuredly shows how a man can and should bear adversity."—London Graphic.

Failed to Catch the Tune.
A professor in an old Pennsylvania college was conducting a review in Latin. Of a sleepy looking youth he asked the question, "What construction is that at the top of page 12?" "I don't know," was the prompt reply. "Why not?" thundered the professor. "I have been harping on that construction all term." "I know you have, professor," was the soft reply, "but I haven't caught the tune yet."

Embarrassing Question.
Police Justice: Have you any way of making a living? Vagrant: I hev' y'r honor. I kin make brooms. Police Justice: You can? Where did you learn that trade? Vagrant: I decline to answer, your honor.—Home Herald.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
